

GOV. SPRY REFUSES WILSON'S REQUEST

Declines to Postpone the Execution of Joseph Hillstrom

PARDON BOARD CONCURS

Death Watch is Placed Over Hillstrom at State Prison and He Will Be Shot Today

REVIEWS HISTORY OF CASE

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 18.—Asserting his belief that a further postponement of the execution of Joseph Hillstrom would be an unwarranted interference with the course of justice, Governor William Spry telegraphed to President Wilson this afternoon that he cannot and will not lend himself or his office to such interference. The governor's telegram was in answer to one received yesterday from the president requesting a consideration of the case of Hillstrom, who was convicted on the murder of J. G. Morrison, a Salt Lake grocer, and Morrison's son, Jan. 10th, 1914. The president's message was received by the governor after resolutions adopted by the convention of the American Federation of Labor at San Francisco, asking further consideration of the case had been telegraphed to the president.

Pardon Board Concurs.
The governor had the president's request under consideration yesterday and until after noon today. His answer was submitted to the state board of pardons today and was unanimously concurred in by them before it was sent to the president.

A death watch was placed over Hillstrom at the state prison today and he will be shot to death tomorrow, probably early in the day. The five appointed to execute him have been directed to report at the prison at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Reviews History of Case.
Reviewing the history of the case and particularly the president's action in connection with it, the governor says in his telegram:

"September 30th, you requested a stay of execution of the sentence to give the Swedish minister an opportunity to present his views of the case. Upon the same day, at your request only, on the assumption that you were in possession of facts not presented to the board, I granted a respite until October 16, especially requesting that the Swedish minister personally investigate the case and appear before the board.

"Under date of October 1st, you advised me that your only reason for interceding was the request of the representative of a foreign government. At the regular board meeting on October 16th, an open hearing was had in further consideration of the case. Hillstrom's attorney advised the board that there was nothing further to present and that Hillstrom declined to appear before the board again. The only representation in the convict's behalf was a short telegram from the Swedish minister requesting commutation of sentence, not by reason of any new thing in relation to the case but, as he expressed it, 'for the sake of humanity and comity usually practiced between friendly nations.'

Board Terminates Respite.
"Because of the absence of any showing, the board terminated the respite and again denied commutation. The convict thereupon, was, on October 18th, re-sentenced by the court to be shot Nov. 19. Forty-six days after the granting of the respite and at the eleventh hour, you, as the president, without stating any reasons therefor, again wired, urging a thoro re-consideration of the case because of its importance and the justice and advisability of such a course.

"Your interference in the case may have elevated it to an undue importance and the receipt of thousands of threatening letters demanding the release of Hillstrom regardless of his guilt or innocence, may attach a peculiar importance to it, but the case is important in Utah only as establishing, after a fair and impartial trial, the guilt of one of the perpetrators of one of the most atrocious murders ever committed in this state.

"It is also important by reason of the fact that this case has had more careful and painstaking consideration at the hands of the proper officials of Utah than any other like case in the history of the state.

Imputation Not Justified.
"As to your suggestion that justice requires further consideration of the case, I earnestly submit that the imputation contained, not only in your message to me, but also in your message to the president of the American Federation of Labor, that this convict has not had justice in the courts of the state, is not justified. VILLA AND CARRANZA FORCES CLAIM VICTORY

FIGHT TWO BATTLES IN STRUGGLE FOR SUPREMACY IN SONORA

Report That Villa Was Wounded in Engagement Near Hermosillo Is Discredited—Capt. Saracho Leaves for Sonora.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 18.—The forces of Gen. Carranza and those of Gen. Villa which today began in earnest the struggle for supremacy in Sonora tonight reported that each had won a victory. Two battle were fought, one near Del Rio, and the other before Hermosillo, capital of the state.

A force of Carranza troops preceding the main Calles force marching on Cananea, where Gen. Jose Rodriguez is entrenching, met resistance at Del Rio and after several hours fighting reported the rout of the attacking Villa troops. The attack before Hermosillo developed a heavy bombardment resulting in serious damage to the city. This report was given credence in Carranza circles tonight, but details were lacking.

A report that Villa was wounded in a previous engagement near Hermosillo was discredited generally. The Villa forces attacking Hermosillo however, were reported led by Francisco Urbalejo, who hitherto has been in charge of the Yaqui Indian forces fighting with Villa.

Saracho Goes to Sonora.

Calexico, Cal., Nov. 18.—Capt. Arturo de Saracho, a member of Gen. Alvaro Obregon's staff, left here today for Naco, Sonora, with a message from Esteban Cantu, independent governor of the Northern District of Lower California to Gen. Obregon.

Neither Capt. Saracho nor Gov. Cantu, at his headquarters in Mexicali, opposite here would divulge the contents of the message.

GOV. DUNNE'S CALL FOR SPECIAL SESSION IS FINISHED AND SIGNED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 18.—Governor Dunne's call for a special session of the legislature, necessitated by a recent supreme court decision which held that some of the appropriations of the last legislature in an omnibus bill, were illegal, was finished and signed tonight.

It was announced that Secretary of State Lewis G. Stevenson would send copies to the members of the legislature tomorrow morning. The call will not be made public until tomorrow. It was said by William L. Sullivan, the executive secretary, that there were several new matters in the call.

TO INVESTIGATE FURTHER.
Washington, Nov. 18.—Further investigation of the activities of Austrian Consul General Von Nuber and his associates will be made by the department of justice as a result of yesterday's conference in New York between A. Bruce Bielaski, chief of the bureau of investigations, and Dr. Joseph Gorican, former Austrian consul.

neys have represented Hillstrom in the proceedings before the district court, the supreme court and the board of pardons.

"The first group was employed by Hillstrom to conduct his defense. The second group was engaged during the progress of the trial, participated in the defense, represented him before the supreme court and before the board of pardons. The third group, I am informed, was employed in Hillstrom's behalf by the Swedish minister. No fair minded person acquainted with the record has any doubt of Hillstrom's guilt. The board of pardons with its most painstaking care has investigated every rumor, every suggestion and every claim that might tend to establish the innocence of this man and has earnestly pleaded with him to shed any light on his movements and whereabouts on the night of the homicide. During every day since he was charged with the crime, the board has stood and even now stands ready to make further investigation and give due consideration to any tangible fact of circumstance that would tend to establish Hillstrom's innocence. It is a significant fact that those are appealed to who have no knowledge of the facts and those only demand clemency who are prejudiced in Hillstrom's favor or who demand his release regardless of his guilt.

"I am fully convinced that your request must be based on a misconception of the facts or that there is some reason of an international nature that you have not disclosed.

Interference Would be Unwarranted.
"With a full knowledge of all the facts and circumstances submitted I feel that a further postponement at this time would be an unwarranted interference with the course of justice. Mindful of the obligations of my oath of office to see that the laws are enforced, I cannot and will not lend myself or my office to such interference. Tangible facts must be presented before I will further interfere in this case."

To Take No Further Steps.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Governor Spry's telegram was made public at the white house tonight without comment. Officials indicate that the president felt that he had exhausted his resources in behalf of Hillstrom, and that no further steps would be taken.

MAY DEFINE NEAR EASTERN POLICY

Important Decisions Are Reached at Council Held at Paris

BRITISH CLAIM SUCCESS

Attack Turkish Trenches on Either Side of Krithia Nullah on Gallipoli Peninsula

SITUATION MORE SERIOUS

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The attitude of the entente allies toward Greece from which country they are endeavoring to get a definite guarantee for the safety of the French, British and Serbian troops and the whole military policy of the Near East including the Dardanelles, will, it is expected, be made clear before the end of the present week. The council at Paris in which British and French ministers took part came to important decisions, and Earl Kitchener, looking over the ground both in Gallipoli and the Balkans, is to report on the best means of dealing with the situation arising out of the Austro-German and Bulgarian successes in Serbia and Greece's leaning toward the central powers.

British Report Success.

It transpired today during the course of the debate in the house of lords that the report of the recently appointed commander-in-chief in the Dardanelles has already given his opinion as to what should be the future policy with regard to the Gallipoli campaign and Lord Ribblesdale said he understood the report of the general favored withdrawal. The Marquis of Lansdowne replied that the report and the evidence accompanying it was not considered sufficient to enable the government to come to a conclusion. The statement had hardly been made when the war office issued an account of a successful British attack on the Turkish trenches on either side of the Krithia Nullah, which led to the belief that Lord Kitchener, who is on the peninsula, and who went out after Gen. Munro's report had been received, had decided to persist in the operations.

Andrew Bonar Law, the colonial secretary, assured the house of commons that the decision would be left to the military experts and the question of the loss of prestige would have no weight.

As to Greece it is reported in despatches from Rome that immediate action will be taken and no delay will be tolerated. It is said Italy will take an important part in the forthcoming developments. The action naturally will depend upon the attitude which King Constantine and his ministers assume toward the entente powers.

Situation Grows More Serious.
Meanwhile the situation in Serbia grows more serious. The Austro-German armies with the Bulgarians on their left are pushing southward driving the inferior Serbian forces before them, while in the south the Bulgarians, reinforced by men and guns from Von Gallwitz's army, are pressing on toward Monastir, from which town they are said to be only a few hours march. There is some uncertainty as to the Serbians line of retreat. Some dispatches say they are falling back on Monastir, where there are British reinforcements, others that they are retreating on Ochrida, on the southern Albanian frontier.

The French have inflicted a serious defeat on the Bulgarians on the Vardar river and it is unofficially reported that the British have had a success on the Valandovo front.

The big guns are continuing their lively bombardment in the west while in the east there has been no change.

Hillstrom is sentenced to be shot at Salt Lake City, Utah, tomorrow for murder.

CONSIDER PLANS FOR BATTLESHIPS

Would Build Two 26,000 Ton Vessels as First Year's Part of Program

BIGGEST MADE FOR U. S.

Part of Increased Displacement Will Be Due to Changed Hull Construction

TO SEEK INCREASED SPEED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Tentative plans are being considered Secretary Daniels, said today for two 26,000 ton battleships to be included in the first year's part of the five-year building program congress will be asked to approve. There are no warships so large afloat anywhere in the world now, and the biggest ever designed for the American navy.

To Increase Speed.
Part of the increased displacement in the newest ships will be due to changed hull construction to provide additional torpedo defense bulkheads. While the general characteristics of the ships have not been disclosed, it is probable they will have increased armament and speed.

Maximum speed of American battleships now built or authorized is less than 21 knots altho European first line ships go considerably above that. It is considered probable that a speed of perhaps 25 knots will be sought hereafter.

Secretary Daniels has received no report as yet on examination of private bids received yesterday for battleships 43 and 44, all of which appeared to be above limit fixed by congress. It is understood however, that a careful analysis of the exceptions to advertised specifications bears out the indications that private builders will not attempt to construct the hulls and machinery of the ships within the $7,800,000 limit.

Short of Structural Steel

Neither ship can be laid down before next summer it is said for lack of structural steel, the war having swept the American steel market clean. Secretary Daniels showed considerable concern today over this fact. He intimated that unless some arrangement could be made with steel plants to insure preference for government orders congress might be asked to act. An embargo on exportation of steel until the government's wants are supplied has been suggested.

REPORTS MORAL PROBE VINDICATES PUPILS

INVESTIGATE STATEMENTS OF LAXITY AMONG CHICAGO STUDENTS

Probe is Made Thru High School Teachers and Principals—Report is Referred to Attorneys for the Board.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—An investigation into morals in the high schools here which followed published statements of laxity among the pupils has vindicated the pupils according to a report tonight by Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of schools.

An address by Dr. Jane Scherzer, president of the Ford College for Women at Oxford, Ohio, at the International Purity Congress at San Francisco last July reflected on the morals of the high school girls. Mrs. Young said at about the same time that Mrs. Leonora Z. Meder, former commissioner of public welfare, was quoted in the newspapers here as saying: "I know there were as many as 359 cases of ruined girls in the high schools of Chicago last year."

Mrs. Meder replied to an inquiry of Mrs. Young by sending a copy of a letter she had received from Parker H. Sercombe, recently appointed by the board as superintendent of the board of statistics.

The letter says:

"Answering your inquiry I am told by people who claim to know that the annual record of girls attending high schools in Chicago who become pregnant are from 350 to 360. There is certainly a wonderful field for your welfare work in this city."

Mr. Sercombe, told the committee he did not remember writing the letter but if he gave out any such information he took no responsibility for the figures.

"I may have repeated something I heard at a woman's club meeting," he said.

Mrs. Young told of having received a copy of a publication, "The Light," which contained Mr. Scherzer's address of which the following was quoted:

"In Chicago in one large high school in one session, fifteen girls have fallen. In another large city high school fourteen were reported in one year and smaller high schools in proportionate numbers. The numerous signs' rooms for rent in the vicinity of high schools have been discovered to be lures for the children."

The investigation was made thru the teachers and principals. The report was referred to attorneys for the board.

As Bertsche was telling of payments to the police Ernest A. Mundt one of the jurors, fainting twice within an hour and caused temporary adjournments.

HOLD AUTOPSY OVER BODY OF DEFECTIVE

Conclusions Are Said to Have Sustained Previous- ly Expressed Beliefs

Result of Autopsy is Read Be- fore Jury—None of Jurymen Express Themselves

PROMINENT DOCTORS ON JURY

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—An autopsy over the body of John Bollinger, the defective infant, who died last night after his mother and the attending physician agreed not to attempt to prolong his life, was held today by H. G. W. Reinhardt, coroner's physician, and W. D. McNally, city chemist. Their conclusions are said to have sustained previously expressed beliefs that the infant was doomed to death or a life of anguish and to have justified Dr. J. H. Haiselden who allowed the child to die when an operation might have saved his life.

The inquest before a jury of prominent physicians was continued until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Jury Hears Result of Autopsy.
The result of the autopsy was read before the jury, which adjourned without any of its members expressing themselves.

The autopsy showed that the baby was paralyzed on the left side from head to foot. On the right side the outer ear was formed but lacked the drum and the boy would have been deaf because there was no ear on the left side. On the right side there was no neck, the skin growing from the cheek to the shoulder blade. Curvature of the spine and hemorrhage of the spinal canal also were found.

The latter, according to physicians would have caused complete paralysis of the child's body and would have resulted in death, had there been no other causes.

Mother Is Told of Death.
Mrs. Anna Bollinger, mother of the defective infant which was permitted to die yesterday, was told today of the death.

She made no comment except to repeat that denial of the simple operation which would have saved the baby's life was best for all concerned. An inquest was made after a consultation with Dr. Henry G. W. Reinhardt and Dr. John Dill Robertson, health commissioner.

"I have decided to hold an inquest, because, for all we know, a similar case may be brought to our attention tomorrow. We should do this recommendation to prevent similitude," he said. "I am making no criticism of the physician in this case. Our only object is to do something in the interests of humanity. I chose a jury of physicians in the hope that they will make some scientific recommendation to prevent similar occurrences."

Members of Jury.

The jury was composed of Dr. John B. Murphy, Mercy hospital; Dr. Arthur Rankin, professor of anatomy at Loyola university; Dr. Howard Chislett, dean of Hahnemann college; Dr. D. A. K. Steele, dean of the physicians and surgeons' college of the University of Illinois; Dr. Henry F. Lewis, professor of obstetrics, Cook county hospital; Dr. Ludwig Hekten, professor of pathology, Rush Medical college of the University of Chicago.

Why Not Morgan County?

Eighteen counties in Illinois have organized crop improvement bureaus and paid county advisors. In most of these counties the work has been going on for several years and with uniformly satisfactory financial results. In a number of other counties plans are well under way for securing advisors and by March, 1916, it is certain that the list of eighteen will be much larger. As mentioned recently, the farmers of Sangamon county have practically completed their plans of organization and have the money in sight to pay the expense of an advisor for the coming year. While the matter has been taken up in Morgan county to some extent, it has not been in the definite way which should prevail if the agriculture of the county is to be carried on along co-operative advancement lines. Hancock, Tazewell, Peoria, McLean, Livingston, Adams and Champaign are among the central Illinois counties which have taken up this advance work in agriculture and livestock husbandry. Isn't it time for the farmers of this county to seriously consider having Morgan county in this list?

Recreation for State Ward's.

A recent announcement made by the state board of administration is seemingly of little importance, but nevertheless is entitled to wide commendation. The announcement is nothing more nor less than the purchase by the state of a large amount of playground apparatus to be used by the wards of the state in various charitable institutions. Merry-go-rounds, swinging chairs and slides are only a part of the apparatus which will be placed at the soldiers' orphans' home, the training school for girls at Geneva, the training school for boys at St. Charles and several other institutions.

It is hoped that other institutions at least one here, not in the class of those mentioned may share in the present plans. The state has been somewhat negligent in providing for the pleasure and recreation of some of its wards and the determination to give this matter more attention is commendable. In some of the institutions there are hundreds of boys and girls who lack the simple things to make playgrounds places of real pleasure, and the purchases just made by the board cannot be at all listed as extravagances, as they will help develop boys and girls who will be classed as citizens only a few years hence.

Postoffice Employees Protest.

A dispatch from Fairmount West Virginia, states that 25 carriers and clerks in the postoffice there have "gone on a strike" by way of protest against the action of the postmaster in bringing to pass the discharge of

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

THE DOOMED BIRD

The day'll be with us in a trice— Thanksgiving day, of grateful glee. Still stands the ancient sacrifice, a turkey roosting in a tree. I wonder why we always eat a turkey and a pumpkin pie, to show we're grateful for the wheat that in the bin is piled up high. We see our larders amply full, the bald-faced hens are laying eggs, the sheep have grown so blamed much wool that they are spavined in the legs; the cupboard's full of shredded oats, the pantry shelves have jars of jams, the cows are thrifty and the shoats give pledge of bacon and of hams. All mundane things have come our way, we gain each prize for which we try, and, filled with gratitude, we say, "We'll eat a gobbler and a pie." The turkey roosts in yonder tree, and hopes to dodge the butcher's gaze; but such a boon is not to be, alas, for numbered are his days. So many blessings crown our lives, so many gifts without alloy, that we, and all our aunts and wives, must find some way to show our joy. We find existence full and sweet, each day's the best that e'er went by; and so we fondly say, "we'll eat a turkey and a pumpkin pie."

the assistant postmaster, who it was alleged had been guilty of giving assistance to applicants for positions when taking civil service examinations. The story must have been partially incorrect because it included the statement that the employees had forwarded their resignations to Washington, and further it is regarded as impossible for federal employees to strike as the oath they take when entering the service precludes this.

Evidently the Fairmount men have designed their action as a very vigorous protest against what they consider a wrong done to a fellow worker. No doubt the department will take some cognizance of the matter and have an investigation made, but the employees do not have the same chance of gaining their ends as did the postmaster at Winnetka, whose troubles were so speedily remedied when brought to the attention of the president. The Winnetka man had been fired because he criticized the president for seeming haste in his coming marriage, and so the case when brought to the attention of President Wilson had a personal touch which is lacking in the Fairmount incident.

The People Loved McKinley.

Saturday a monument is to be erected at Niles, Ohio, in memory of William McKinley. The memorial has been erected near the site of McKinley's father's cottage and was made possible by the people of that city who knew the martyred president in his early days and were familiar with his family history. The great monument at Canton was erected by contributions from more than a million people, and the funds for the Niles memorial were secured in larger contributions from a much smaller number of people.

No president of the United States, not even Lincoln excepted, came nearer to the hearts of the people than did William McKinley. Long before he was elected to the presidency his name was a household word in many states and people—thousands of them, in the common walks of life—had learned to honor and revere him. McKinley was one of those men who was great in his simplicity. In his manner of life, in his speech, he was simple and plain. There have been brainier men in the United States; there have been more profound men, but none have surpassed him in the qualities of heart and spirit which made him so widely beloved.

McKinley was a sincerely good man, and one no one could look upon his face, listen to his voice, or know of the kindly words and acts which made up the sum total of his daily life, without being firmly convinced of that goodness. His name today is enshrined in the hearts of millions of people, and that memorial will be more lasting than ever those at Canton and Niles.

The Hillstrom Case.

Unless President Wilson had some reason which he did not make public for asking a further postponement of the execution of Joseph Hillstrom at Salt Lake City, Governor Spry was justified in his refusal to grant the request. September 30th the governor acceded to the suggestion of the president and granted a respite. Afterward attorneys for Hillstrom presented no new evidence and the prisoner declined to come before the pardon board.

From all the records of the case it appears that Hillstrom was accorded every possible protection available under the courts. Three groups of attorneys have appeared for the prisoner before the district court, the supreme court and the board of pardons and his cause has been ably presented.

Hillstrom was convicted of the cold blooded murder of a grocer and his son in January, 1914. The evidence was such that it left no doubt in the minds of the jury about the guilt of the prisoner. The publicity given the case through presidential interference resulted in the filing of thousands of protests against Hillstrom's killing a great majority coming from people who evidently did not understand the details of the case.

Gov. Spry in his letter to the president gives the history of the proceedings and shows why in his opinion he would be recreant to duty if he used his office to interfere with the punishment which has been prepared for Hillstrom in accordance with the law. It is possible to create a great deal of undeserved sentiment in favor of a criminal in this country if the proper methods are used and the governor of Utah in the present case seems to be actuated only by a desire to do his duty and will act in accordance with the facts as he sees them notwithstanding public opinion or the wishes of the president whom he avers is not familiar with the facts and details of the case.

RAIN MARS BIG BURGEOO AND SHOW AT BEARDSTOWN

Implement and Automobile Display Abandoned Because of Weather—Affair Under Auspices of Anti-Horse Thief Association.

Thursday was the day set for the big burgeoo and implement and automobile show at Beardstown. Elaborate preparations had been made for a large crowd, but the weather man stepped in and furnished one of the worst days in several months. The implement and automobile display which was to have been held in the park was abandoned. The program was held in the Princess theater.

Jeffries Concert band from this city went to Beardstown Thursday morning and furnished music throughout the day. The band played in the theater. The principal address of the day was delivered by the Hon. Elza Williams of Pittsfield, Democratic candidate for governor. Mr. Williams is a forceful speaker and while he confined his talk along general lines he was heard with close attention.

The rain made it impossible for visitors to reach Beardstown by automobile. All the visitors who attended were compelled to go by train. Despite the rain, over 800 gallons of burgeoo was given away. The affair was planned and given under the auspices of the Anti-Horse Thief association of Beardstown. It had been widely advertised and but for the bad weather there no doubt would have been one of the largest crowds in the history of Beardstown present.

SCOTT'S THEATER: TODAY Feature Pictures Extraordinary

A BIG SEVEN A WHOLE BROADWAY LONG EVENING'S MASTERPIECE. REELS ENTERTAINMENT

The Avenging Conscience

Six Reels. Suggested by Edgar Allen Poe's Story of "The Telltale Heart," and by Certain of Poe's Poems of the Affections.

Featuring HENRY B. WALTHALL and BLANCHE SWEET

A Drama of the Mind. Exposing the Extremes of Penitence and Remorse Inflicted by Conscience Upon a Young Man Whose Hands are Stained With Blood.

The Avenging Conscience may be described as a "Mystery Story" but not in the ordinary sense of the words. It is the sort of mystery conceived by the weird, imaginative genius of Edgar Allan Poe and then transplanted to the screen by the wonderfully vivid and artistic methods of D. W. Griffith. "The Avenging Conscience" had its first presentations in New York at the Strand Theatre, breaking all records

New York EVENING GLOBE—This film production is the bestest screen presentation ever seen at the Strand. It abounds with thrilling situations cleverly interwoven with a thread of love and affection.

THE MOVING PICTURE WORLD—Griffith has absorbed the whole spirit of Edgar Allan Poe and reflected it in "The Avenging Conscience". Poe's remarkable genius, his rejection of customary forms, his crystalline imagery, his bloom, his grandeur, his abrupt transitions from scenes of exquisite beauty to those of ghastly horror, all the spell that transports us from the baseless fabric of a delicious dream to common and hideous reality, the marvels of his power of contrast, dwelling one moment in a heaven of ideals and another in a hell of mental torture, are reproduced with marvelous fidelity on the screen.

Delighting you with its flashes of exquisite beauty at one moment, the very essence of spiritual charm, it moves you at another to pity and then to horror.

PASADENA NEWS—"The Avenging Conscience" marks an epoch in the moving picture art. In no other picture ever shown has the uncanny workings of a criminal's conscience, the inner conscience of men, that is so vividly portrayed by Poe, been attempted.

EVENING TELEGRAM—The photography is remarkably clear and there is not a dull moment in the play.

Walthall's Masterpiece

Mae Tinee says in the Chicago Tribune: "I spoke to Mr. Walthall regarding his perfect work in 'The Avenging Conscience'."

"Well," he told me, "I was completely absorbed in that. After the scene where I'm tortured by the detective—you remember?—I was all in—absolutely incapable of doing another bit of work for the day. Mr. Griffith himself was so affected that he had to walk away. He said he couldn't bear it."

"Gradually the conversation drifted. We discussed 'The Birth of a Nation,' which Mr. Walthall thinks is a great picture, but not so great as The Avenging Conscience

A healthy sport is the marathon.
A sport we all must dote upon;
But when it comes to a lively step
Your Butcher Man is there with

The gait he sets in the business race,
Is such that few can keep space;
For in selling meat that's fresh and prime,
At lesser price he's right in line;
And to the quality we must allude,
For in competitor's meats there's no

IMPROVEMENTS AT STATE HOSPITAL WILL BE COMPLETE THIS WEEK

New Coal House and Hog Shed with Fuel Yards Addition to Institution Plant.

A commodious coal house and hog sheds and feed yards of ample size are two substantial improvements at Jacksonville State hospital which for some time have been under construction and which will probably be brought to completion this week. The coal house has a capacity for storing a three months' supply for the institution and the shed and feed yards will make a place in which 150 hogs can be easily cared for. This shed is 12x128 feet and the four feed yards are 18x32 feet each and have floors of concrete.

The storage house for coal is 42x170 feet with twelve-foot side walls. The roof trusses are of steel and the roof covering is of slate. On the completion of the switch from the Jacksonville street railway the shed will be served by a spur on both the east and west side, making it possible to keep separate the mine run and slack. A narrow-gauge track will run thru the center of the coal house and the special cars will convey the fuel to the boiler room. Six boilers of the 250-horsepower each supply power for the institution. Three of these are fired by hand and three have mechanical stokers. The Illinois Steel Bridge company furnished the steel trusses, and G. A. Faugust is placing the slate roof. A. J. McCarty, carpenter at the institution, was foreman of construction.

ILLINOIS WANTS EXHIBITION GAME WITH MILLIKIN UNIVERSITY

At a meeting of the Student Athletic association Thursday at Illinois college it was voted to send the Illinois College Champions of the "Little Sixteen" to Millikin to play an exhibition game there against the Millikin eleven on Thanksgiving day. The management hopes that Millikin will look kindly on the proposition and that the game at Decatur, will result in seeing the two schools exchange games on Thanksgiving day in the future. Illinois would certainly be a big drawing card on Decatur and would draw a much bigger crowd than Lincoln.

FRANKLIN HIGH SCHOOL IS NOW ON ACCREDITED LIST

W. N. Luttrell, while in Springfield this week, visited the office of the state superintendent of public instruction, and secured that office's approval of the application filed by the local board of directors several weeks since requesting admission of the Franklin high school to the list of recognized high schools of the state, says the Franklin Times. Owing to the fact that many applications for recognition were filed about Sept. 1st, action on the matter had been delayed. The approval of the application insures the collection of tuition for the 25 non-resident pupils attending our high school.

The department expressed itself as well pleased with the improvements made on our school buildings, the practical course of study, and the corps of teachers employed. Further information was given to the effect that the department expects to enforce the provisions of the new sanitary law for schools, and they must be observed if high schools collect tuition from non-resident pupils from the state distributive fund.

FAILED TO SECURE LICENSE HERE AND WERE MARRIED IN VIRGINIA

Melvin A. Schroll and Miss Olive May Hulet, both of Beardstown, came to Jacksonville Thursday with the intention of getting married. They were accompanied by the mother of the girl, so there was no elopement about the affair. Application was made to Deputy County Clerk Boston for a license. When the questions were asked it developed that the girl was only 16 years old.

The new law provides that consent to marry cannot be given by the parents in another county other than the one in which the parties reside without consent first having been given and the same filed in the office of the county clerk of the home county. This had not been done. The prospective groom was much exercised and explained to Mr. Boston that they had tickets purchased and their baggage checked to leave on the Wabash flyer at two o'clock for a wedding trip to the west. That did not change the situation any, however, and he was told that the law must be complied with.

Mr. Schroll then called up Wheeler & Sorrells' garage and secured a car to make the trip to Virginia. The party were taken over by James Haigh and secured the license and were married by a justice of the peace in the Cass county court house. They arrived back in Jacksonville in time to take their train for Kansas City.

TEMPLE ENCAMPMENT N.O. 19 PLANS 2ND ANNIVERSARY.

The second anniversary of the institution of Temple Encampment No. 19 will be held at Odd Fellows temple Thursday evening, Dec. 2, and in preparation for the event, committees were appointed at the regular meeting of the order Thursday evening. J. O. Priest was received into full membership and seven new names were favorably voted upon.

Temple Encampment has one of the best records for growth in the state. It was brought forth in reports from the grand lodge meeting made at this time by T. S. Martin and J. Marshall Miller. Twenty-eight have been added to membership during the year just past. The record is held by the encampment at Urbana, with thirty-six accessions.

GRAIN MEN ENGAGE COUNSEL

Attorney A. D. Stephens of Springfield was Thursday engaged to represent the Illinois Farmers' Grain Dealers' association in the hearing which will be held Dec. 2 and 3, before the State Utilities commission when the railroad rate business in the state will continue for a five per cent increase. Mr. Stephens was retained for the association by the president, A. C. Rice. Denied the right to make a similar increase on inter-state shipments about a year ago by decision of the Inter-State Commerce commission, railroads of Illinois now seek such privilege with regard to intra-state shipments.

QUARANTINE AT GRIGGSVILLE.

Officers from the state board of health visited Griggsville recently to look over the scarlet fever situation in that town. Notices were thereafter posted directing that children under 16 years of age do not attend church, public gatherings, picture show, or other places of amusement, and that all cases developed should be held under strict quarantine. The schools were not ordered closed, as was reported. There are twenty or more cases of scarlet fever in the town, according to what seems authentic reports, and there are also numerous cases in Valley City and Perry. In Valley City, the disease has been prevalent for several months.

MISS GEORGIA L. OSBORNE SIGNALLY HONORED IN WEST

Places Wreath on Old Liberty Bell for State of Illinois—Tells of Lincoln Room.

Miss Georgia L. Osborne, who in company with Mrs. C. C. Phelps went to California, has been signally honored at the Panama-San Francisco exposition, as will be noted by the letter which follows. Miss Osborne expects to return to Illinois shortly. Mrs. Phelps arrived a few days ago after a visit of three months in the west. She spent most of the time at San Francisco and then went to Los Angeles, San Diego and the Hawaiian islands. She visited her son, Howard, while in San Francisco, and also Mr. Phelps' sister, Miss Carrie Phelps, in La Jolla, Cal.

Miss Osborne's letter in part reads as follows: "I have had some very busy days out here lately. On Nov. 10 the farewell was given to Liberty Bell with impressive exercises. Every state as its name was called placed a wreath on the bell, and I had the honor of placing the Illinois wreath on the bell. It was a mass of flowers as well as the automobile truck on which it rested. Yesterday, the 13th, was Lincoln day at the exposition, with a great military parade, and it was a significant fact that in this parade there were hundreds of negro soldiers, lately having come from the Philippine islands, under command of Col. John M. Palmer. The exercises which followed the parade were held in Festival hall under the auspices of the Lincoln Grammar school, which was the first public school in the United States named for Lincoln. It was completed in 1865 at the time of the assassination of the president. The first statue to Lincoln was erected in front of this school and the school and statue were both destroyed in the earthquake, but the index finger of the statue was saved and has been made into a gavel, which was used by Mr. John Britton, an alumnus of this school and chairman of the Lincoln day celebration yesterday. At the celebration I gave an account of the Lincoln memorial room in the Illinois building and was proud of Illinois' part in the great day. Our Lincoln room is crowded all the time and I do not think any exhibit at the exposition has attracted more attention. And in this exhibit, which has been visited by thousands of school children of the city and state, we have taught a great lesson in patriotism and a greater one for the first American—Abraham Lincoln."

REMAINED IN ALEXANDER.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Strawn, Miss Jeanette Powell, Mrs. Edward Tindall and S. W. Nichols attended the twentieth anniversary of the Women's Country club held at the home of Mrs. William H. Hinrichsen Thursday evening. The trip was made in Mr. Strawn's automobile and shortly after the journey homeward was begun something went wrong with the car and the party was forced to remain in Alexander all night.

BURLINGTON WAY MAPS.

H. C. Wilbite of Greenfield, founder of the Burlington way and still one of its most ardent promoters, has lately been in consultation with Carl H. Weber, secretary and treasurer of the Burlington Way association with regard to issue of map folders. It was decided to have made 50,000 of the folders which on one side will bear a map of the highway and on the other will have cuts and descriptive matter of Jacksonville. The trail in all its divisions will be shown on the map, a plate for which is now being made. Supplies of the folders will be sent to each city on the highway in care of the commercial clubs.

W. R. TILTON IN SERVICE 35 YEARS

Railroad Engineer Since 1880 Obtains Great Relief Through Tanlac.

WELL KNOWN ON RUN

W. R. Tilton, one of the most capable and trusted engineers of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, who resides at West Grand Place, Springfield, Illinois, and who is known to hundreds of people along his run, made a most remarkable statement in regard to Tanlac, the new preparation that is now being sold in Jacksonville, and the benefits he had derived from the use of the "Master Medicine."

On meeting W. B. McPherson, who is distributor for Tanlac in the state of Illinois, Mr. Tilton said:

"Is there any 'dope' in your medicine?"

"Not a drop," said Mr. McPherson. "Why do you ask?"

"Well, to make a long story short," replied Mr. Tilton, "since I began taking Tanlac I have slept better in the last ten days than I have for five years. I have been having considerable stomach trouble for some time. This has brought about a nervous condition that I have been unable to throw off. I could not sleep soundly at night and was forced to go on my trip at times feeling pretty well 'all in.'"

"I heard about Tanlac and the relief it was giving so many people, so I thought I would get a bottle myself. I cannot tell you how much it has helped me. My old-time stomach trouble is gradually leaving me and I sleep 'like a log' at night. Tanlac is all right and I can heartily recommend it to anyone who is feeling the same way that I did."

When such men as Mr. Tilton, whom hundreds hold in the highest esteem for his worth as a man of unquestioned integrity and one who can be relied upon, praise Tanlac, the new preparation that is being introduced in this city, it cannot be denied that the "Master Medicine" is all that is claimed for it.

Tanlac is now being sold in Jacksonville at the well known drug store of Coover & Shreve.—Adv.

Some Topics of the Farm

Illinois Dairymen's Association.
Directors of Illinois State Dairy-men's association have decided to hold the next annual convention of the association in Carbondale, Jan. 25, 26 and 27. This decision was made in accordance with a request from State Food Commissioner W. Scott Matthews, made several months ago that the meeting be held in that city.

Mr. Matthews has been and is an active worker for dairy development in Southern Illinois. In conjunction with the State Dairymen's association and on his own account he has held a number of one day dairy meetings in that part of the state the past year and has aroused a lot of interest in dairying. He has been instrumental in getting bankers at several points to advance money for good cows to be distributed among the farmers and in establishing an experimental dairy farm at Carbondale as an object lesson to farmers and to give them information about dairying and what it will do for them and their farms. There is no part of the county where dairy interest is any greater today than in Southern Illinois.

Farm That Was Made to Pay.

A significant instance of what proper methods of farm management can accomplish is afforded by a certain 500-acre farm in central Michigan, according to the Galesburg Mail. For 10 years this farm failed to pay interest on the capital invested. One year after the owners had been induced to make certain radical changes the farm paid all the expenses of operation and returned them 5 per cent on an investment of $60,000. The changes were as follows:

1—Four-horse machinery was substituted for 2-horse.

2—The unprofitable cows in the dairy herd were weeded out and sold and the money received for them invested in better stock.

3—A silo was built.

4—The foreman was allowed, in addition to his salary, 13 per cent of the net income from the farm. The expenses of operating the farm, but not the interest on the capital, were deducted from the income before the foreman received his percentage.

It was this last suggestion which met with the most opposition from the owners of the farm, but when it was pointed out to them that for every dollar the foreman got under such an arrangement they would get $9 they yielded.

Unsatisfactory Market.

Irvin Patterson returned yesterday from St. Louis, where he went with a car of cattle. While the steers did not lose a great deal of money, the results were not very satisfactory and the sales gave some indication of what a stockman must go up against who ships to the markets now where big runs of grass-fed cattle are being daily received. Some of the steers which Mr. Patterson bought a few months ago at $6.25 per hundred sold on the market at $5.35. Some others sold at $5.50 and a young heifer in fine condition brought $6.75. A cow that had been fed for a number of weeks sold at $5.25. Mr. Patterson knew before he shipped that there would be no profit in the cattle, but did not believe that they were making satisfactory gains to warrant his putting a large amount of 50c corn into them. The liberal shipments now being made from all points is indicated by the fact that Mr. Patterson found the commission firm to which he shipped had more than twenty cars of cattle on the market that day. With a great many firms doing business, it is easy to figure that packers and speculators have things about their own way.

Rain Good for Wheat.

Ralph Reynolds said yesterday that while the rain was a little unpleasant that it was a fine thing for farmers in general. A good deal of the wheat which was planted late he said was showing the need of rain very greatly and it fell so gently that it would put the wheat into good condition if it did not happen to be followed by severely cold weather. Mr. Reynolds said, too, that the rain would not be so good for corn shucking, as the dry weather has been very helpful in this regard and had given opportunity to farmers to shuck out a great deal of corn which was down on the ground. Much of this corn has already been saved, but in other fields it is still down, and while one rain will not damage it severely, a series of rains would result in injury. With corn which has been out and shocked the rain is a decided benefit, as it will make the task of tearing the husks from the ears very much easier. Mr. Reynolds has this year 120 acres of corn which he believes will yield fifty bushels or better to the acre. He has forty acres in wheat and expected to have twice that acreage, but the rainy weather interfered. Mr. Reynolds usually sells his corn instead of feeding it and expects to follow that plan this year. He is inclined to believe that the present affords a good opportunity to farmers who want to feed, as so many thin and half-fat cattle are now on the market that the prices are unusually low.

THE SMITH SALE.

The sale held by Joseph Smith and his son, Henry F. Smith, at the Strawn farm, south of Diamond Grove cemetery, Thursday was one of the largest and most successful which has been recorded for a long time. These men are excellent farmers and stockmen and the public was certain that the stock and chattels offered would be of the best grade.

The sale totaled something over $6,000 and the prices secured were all very satisfactory. The sale of a cow and calf at $127.50 was the most notable of the day. The rainy weather made it unpleasant for those who attended the sale, but did not interfere at all with the spirited bidding. Jerry Cox and Jed Cox were the auctioneers and Robert R. Stevenson was the clerk. Lunch was served by the North Side Circle of Northminster church.

The sale began at 10:30 o'clock sharp, with a short recess for lunch at noon, and notwithstanding the large amount of stock, grain and goods offered, the last bid was made just about 3 o'clock. Thirty-five bushels of yellow corn was sold in the crib at 59 and 51c, measurement to be the basis of settlement. John Cherry, Simeon Fernandes and H. E. Frye were the purchasers. Texas oats sold at 41c a bushel and timothy hay at from 40 to 60c a bale. The alfalfa was not of the best quality and the prices were from 40c upward per bale. Edward O'Meara, H. Bussey and John Stewart were among the purchasers of hay.

The Poland China hogs offered were all cholera immune and the 112 head sold at good prices, varying according to the size. Charles West was the largest purchaser of hogs and Larry Flynn bought several. Sows with pigs sold at prices from $23 to $28, with three in one group sold to Mr. West for $81.

Some sales of horses and cattle were as follows: Six-year-old black mare, purchased by S. M. Kinney, $208.50; colt to same, $62.50; 6-year-old sorrel mare, sold to A. Johnson, $190; colt to same, $72.50; 12-year-old mare, sold to A. Johnson, $145. F. E. Drury made several purchases, one mare at $185, a team at $357.50 and a 4-year-old brown horse at $152.50. A black horse was sold to W. H. Fuller at $115, and another horse to Cree Smith at $100. A team of young mules was sold to Andrew Harris at $237.50.

Among the cattle the most remarkable purchase made was a Shorthorn cow and calf, for which Richard Souza gave $127.50. This is the highest price paid for a cow in Morgan county for a long period. James Harvey purchased a cow at $88, and another one was bought by John Stewart at $70. A young heifer was purchased by William McCurley for $23, and other heifers and cows brought prices in proportion. As previously noted, Henry Smith is to leave Morgan county in order to take charge of John Cherry's farm near Auburn, Mo., and the Strawn farm has been leased to Allen Smith.

WINTER CARE OF STOCK.

Profitable Wintering of Farm Animals Depends Largely Upon Economic Feeding.

(U. S. Agricultural Bulletin.)

The fall season is here and with it approaches the winter feeding problem. It is time to consider what feed can most profitably be used. Grains will be high and should be fed judiciously. The bulk of the feed used for winter stock should be made up of roughages from the farm. Small amounts of concentrates, fed daily with these feeds, make comparatively cheap rations entirely suitable to certain classes of live stock.

For convenience in planning winter feeding, farm animals may be divided into three classes:

I. Mature animals not producing an income during winter months.

II. Animals producing an income during the winter.

III. Young and growing stock to be retained on the farm the following summer.

In Class I may be included all mature live stock held on the farm, either for breeding purposes, future work, or finishing for market the following summer.

In Class II may be included work horses, cows producing milk, and stock being fattened for market or conditioned for sale during the winter months.

In Class III may be included all young and growing stock on the farm.

The big saving in the winter feed bill can be made with Class I. This does not mean that animals of this class should be permitted to come through the winter in a run-down and weakened condition. Rather than consider such a practice, it would be far better to sell the stock in the fall. It is meant, however, that they can and should be maintained on the cheaper feeds. Roughages, supplemented by a small amount of concentrates (oil meal or grain) are in favor for them. Give the horses, cattle and sheep access to cut-over grain fields and straw stacks, meadows, wooded lots, and pastures. Horses and sheep may have access to husked-out cornfields. In certain sections where losses of cattle have been experienced in the past from the so-called cornstalk disease farmers should consider this fact before turning cattle into such cornfields. As the winter advances, open the bars to shelters, feed racks, and grain troughs.

Corn silage will be invaluable at this time, especially for cattle and sheep. Keep the feed racks filled with corn stover, hay and straw, but do not be wasteful in the feeding.

The amount of grain to put in the trough can not definitely be given. The same should vary in accordance with severity of winter and condition of stock. This is a point that can only be decided in the feed lot. To permit the stock to go entirely without concentrates at this time would be a grave mistake, and in all probability make impossible the task of bringing it to spring feed in a healthy and vigorous condition. Such a condition is imperative in the case of breeding animals and essential for feeders if best results are to be obtained.

The matter of feeding hogs, included in Class I, presents an entirely different problem from that of the other stock. It is true that they may profitably be run on grain fields, meadows, and pastures before snow arrives, but concentrates must constitute much of their ration after outside fields are closed for winter. Roots, chopped alfalfa hay, apples, and waste products of the dairy and household will do much toward keeping down the cost of their winter feed. In fact, any products that will substitute for the forages and grasses in the field, which feeds are so essential to the conditioning of brood sows, can well be used.

Concerning the feed for stock included in Class II little need be said. It is a fact well known that horses at work require both care and feed. This they must receive if their work is done. To furnish the dairy cow with rations not intended to meet the demands made upon her system by the milk she gives would defeat the purpose for which she is kept. Equally certain would the stunting of the ration of fattening steers or hogs fail to make them ready for the Christmas market. As the food requirement for these different classes of live stock is a matter of common knowledge to stockmen, it remains only to see that it is provided in abundance.

With Class III, the young and growing stock, most costly mistakes in feeding occur. A full realization of the fact that cheapest and most rapid gains in live stock are made with younger animals should do much toward obviating losses to farmers thru insufficient and improper feeding of such animals. The failure to put gains on animals during the growing period intended for them by nature can not be corrected by copious feeding at any later time. Their growth has been stunted, and rarely will they fully recover from the earlier setback. Even when they do it is a costly practice to put growth and usefulness on a stunted animal, as compared to what could have been done when he was in a healthy and vigorous condition.

But it is not necessary that young stock be fed as are fattening animals. Watch their food troughs and see that all of the daily rations are consumed. Do not feed them in excess, but make certain they are contented after each feeding. See that the exercise lot is used daily and that clean water is provided. The failure to feed young stock properly will open the way for future serious troubles, and no stockman can afford to encourage such a practice even during the winter months.

MAYORS SEEK AID

FOR UNEMPLOYED

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 18.—In order to keep the number of unemployed in this state down to the lowest possible figures this winter, a committee of mayors representing the more important cities of the state met here today to consider steps that may be taken to obtain employment for some of the many thousands now idle. Many experts on unemployment will give their advice. The outlook is for better conditions than those which obtained last year.

LABOR AGITATOR FACES UTAH FIRING SQUAD

Lid is Down Heavy on the Industrial Workers for Murder of J. G. Morrison.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 18.—Joseph Hillstrom, an organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, will face a firing squad at the State Prison tomorrow morning, for the murder of J. G. Morrison, a Salt Lake grocer, and his son, Arling, on the evening of January 10, 1914. He has had a choice between hanging and shooting, and prefers the latter. Hillstrom was convicted of the murder, despite his claims of innocence. He had staggered into a doctor's office two hours after the shooting, with a large bullet wound through his left lung.

Hillstrom's case grew to national prominence, when President Wilson secured a postponement of the execution, through the request of the Swedish Minister to the United States. He was to have been shot on October 1. On October 18th he was again sentenced to die, and 10:30 on the morning of Friday, Nov. 19, was the time set for the execution.

Hillstrom has maintained from the time he came to a doctor for treatment until today that he knew nothing of the murder at the grocery store. He told the physician that he had been shot in a quarrel over a woman on whom he was calling. He has refused to divulge the name of the woman or to support his statement in any way. Governor Spry offered to keep secret the name of the woman, if Hillstrom would divulge it to him, and he also offered to investigate the story and grant a pardon to the condemned man if it was found to be a fact.

The martyr role assumed by Hillstrom has made him a unique figure, but it has failed to save him from the carrying out of the sentence. His fellow-members of the I. W. W. believe he is being railroaded to death because of his activities in organizing the workers. But the murder was done, and Hillstrom could not establish an alibi that is acceptable to the laws of the state.

The approach of the hour of execution has brought a tightening of the guards at the prison about the governor. Many threatening letters have been received. These are laid to the doors of the I. W. W. men, but the charge has been unproven. It is claimed, on the other hand, that the mine owners and other employers are behind the threatening letters as a coup to discredit the I. W. W. organizers.

The execution of Hillstrom is the second death among the I. W. W. leaders during three weeks. On Oc-

A CHILD GETS CROSS,
SICK AND FEVERISH
WHEN CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated clean little liver and bowels.

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoon full of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

STOMACH ACTS FINE!
NO INDIGESTION, GAS,
HEART BURN, ACIDITY

"Pape's Diapepsin" Fixes Sick, Sour, Upset Stomachs in Five Minutes.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs. Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain, unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them, if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headaches, dizziness and nausea, eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.—Adv.

SMITHSON'S FORTUNE.

The Gift Which Founded a Great Scientific Institution.

The Smithsonian institution at Washington was created by act of congress in 1846 to carry out the conditions of the will of James Smithson, an English chemist and mineralogist, who bequeathed his fortune to the United States of America to found at Washington under the name of the Smithsonian institution an establishment for "the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men."

The will became operative at the death of its maker, which occurred at Genoa in 1829, and the income of the estate went to Smithson's nephew, Henry James Hungerford, until the death of the latter on June 5, 1835. The bequest of the property to the United States thereupon became operative, and in September, 1835, the state department received notification thereof.

On Dec. 17 President Jackson informed congress of the bequest, and on July 1, 1836, the gift was accepted and the president empowered to appoint an agent to collect the money. Richard Rush of Pennsylvania was intrusted with this duty, and in November he brought the necessarily formal suit in the English court of chancery, where the claim remained for two years. Upon the final interpretation of the will Rush returned to America, bringing the fund with him in English gold, $508,318. It was nearly eight years before congress decided on a plan of carrying out the will of the testator.

The total endowment of the institution is now nearly $1,000,000, and with the support and co-operation of the government it has become one of the most important scientific institutions in the world.

PERSIAN PAINTINGS.

Oriental Art That Embodies the Essence of Romance.

No dramatic, no passionate motive ever so grips and possesses a Persian artist as to absorb his whole imagination. His sensuous love of beauty cannot resist filling in the accessories of the scene with just as much care and intention in every detail as he devotes to the central figures. In the great works of Chinese and Japanese painters, as in masters like Rembrandt, accessories are subdued or suppressed, the color is limited, and the figures which create the motive of the design are so emphasized, so dominant in the eye that they seem to transcend the limits of the framing space, they seem alive with all the latent energies of actual men and women.

No Persian painting imposes itself thus on the imagination. Everything remains within the frame, laid as in a lustrous mosaic. The Persian method, just as in the early pictures of Rossetti and Millais, everything is realized with a dreamlike vision, and this is always a real achievement for the painter. The freshness and glory thus brought to the eye, as of a world washed clean, with every object magically distinct and burning with clear color, make a vivid impression of strangeness. Strangeness, remoteness from the routine of every day—that is the essence of romance, and no art in the world is more steeped in romance than the painting of Persia.—Laurence Binion in Atlantic.

Foretold.

One day Jones was rambling along the boulevard when he was hailed by his friend Smith. While talking Jones noticed that Smith continually rubbed the palm of his hand.

"What in the world is the matter with your hand?" he finally demanded. "You have been rubbing and scratching it ever since we stopped here."

"The palm itches like blazes," answered Smith. "They say that it is a sure sign that you are about to get some money."

"Um!" thoughtfully returned Jones as a great light suddenly dawned upon him. "Here is where you get wise to the fact that there is nothing in signs. I haven't a dollar to spare."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Horse Sense.

In "Tod Sloane," by himself, the once famous jockey says that a horse exceeds even a dog in intelligence and that if a thoroughbred were small enough to run about a house like a dog and have the same chances instead of being so much alone surprising results would follow. "Cussedness" in horses, he thinks, may be caused by too much inbreeding, bringing about an extraordinary temperament. The best jockey, says Sloane, is the boy with a nervous temperament. "He is quick and alert to take in a situation and becomes a human ferret, finding out things for himself."

Difficult.

The adjutant was lecturing to the subalterns of the battalion. "In the field," he said, "it is now the duty of an officer to make himself look as much like a man as possible."

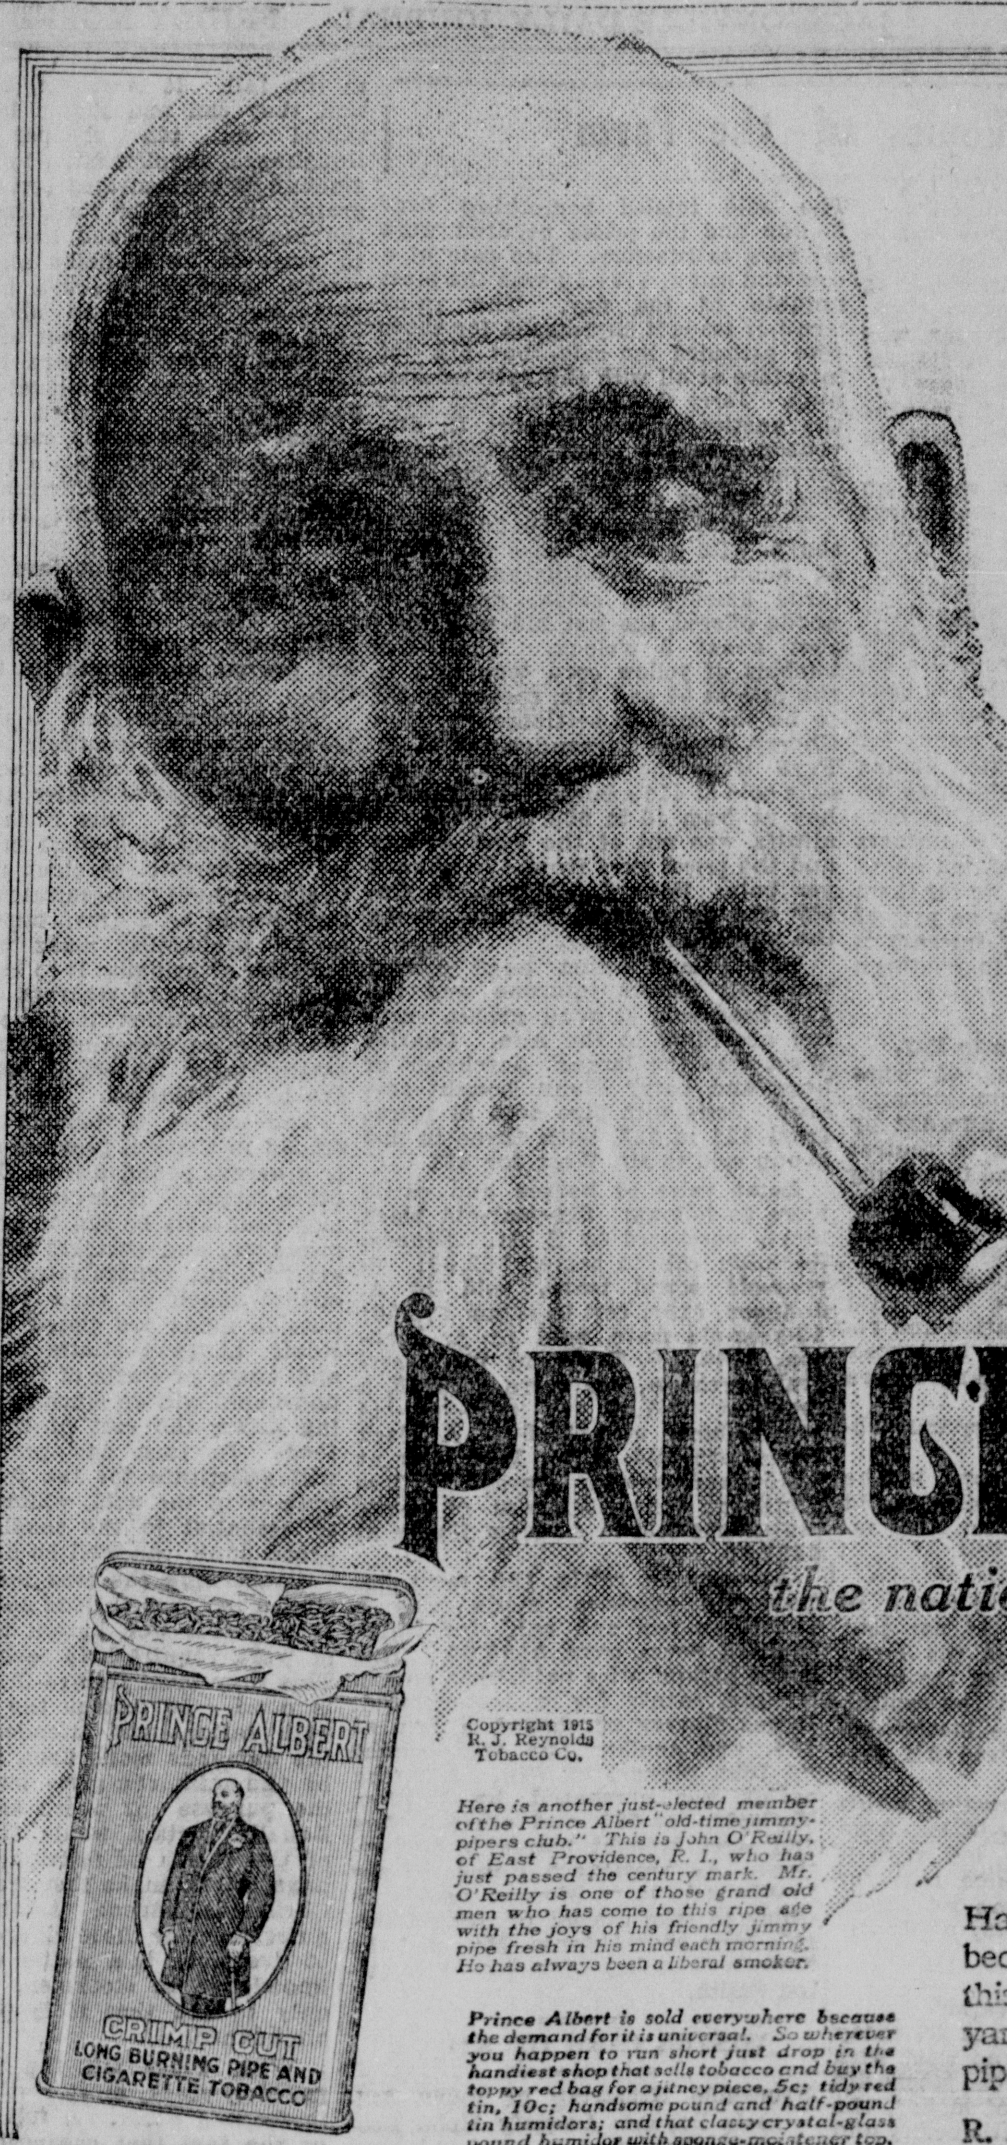

Everybody laughed. "That is, I mean," he explained, "as much like a soldier as possible."—London Mirror.

NOW THE TIME FOR MERCHANTS TO ADVERTISE, SAYS PATTERSON

National Cash Register Head, Forecasting Prosperity, Backs up His Opinion With His Money; Is Spending $200,000 This Month for Publicity.

Dayton, O., Nov. 17.

In the convention of salesmen of the National Cash Register Company, gathered here from all parts of this continent, reports were made indicating the general improvement of business everywhere. Out of the eight hundred salesmen present, all but one said that his territory was moving fast toward a business boom. On the basis of these reports, John H. Patterson, president and general manager of the Cash Register Company, predicted that the approaching era of prosperity would probably exceed anything this country has ever known.

As a preface to his remarks, he reviewed the business depression of the previous two years. This, he said, had affected all lines—agriculture, mining, industry, commerce and finance.

"Now is the time for storekeepers to advertise," added Mr. Patterson. He is backing up his opinion with his money. His company is spending more than $200,000 this month for advertising. In addition, it has spent $50,000 to have the 800 members of its selling force attend its school at Dayton for three days, where they were taught the new and up-to-date ideas for their business.

Has Faith in Quick Remedy For Catarrh

Coover & Shreve Guarantee That Hyomei Will Relieve the Worst Case of Catarrh in Jacksonville.

When one of the most reputable concerns in Jacksonville guarantees that a medicine will produce benefit or they will refund the money, it speaks volumes for the merits of that remedy. It is in this way that Coover & Shreve are selling Hyomei, the treatment that has helped so many cases of both acute and chronic catarrh in Jacksonville and vicinity.

Hyomei is not a pill nor is it a spray or a lotion that must be rubbed in. It is an oil, the air of which you just breathe in your nose, throat and lungs by the aid of an inhaler that comes with every outfit. Benefit will usually be seen from the very first treatment.

This aid destroys all germ life in the air passages and lungs and enriches and purifies the blood with the additional ozone it supplies. It banishes catarrh of the head and throat and respiratory organs. Wherever these mucous membranes contain catarrhal germs, there Hyomei will do its work of healing. When using this treatment, the air you breathe will be found like that on the mountains high above the sea level, where grow the balsamic trees and plants which make the air pure by giving off volatile antiseptic fragrance that is healing to the respiratory organs.

The complete Hyomei outfit is inexpensive and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks treatment.

Remember that if Hyomei does not relieve you Coover & Shreve will refund your money. This is a good time to get rid of catarrh by this natural method and prevent catarrhal colds that are so common at this season.—Adv.

SUGGESTION TO WOMEN

Who Are "Just Ready To Drop." When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, you need help. You can get it just as Mrs. Maxwell did. She says:—

"I keep house for my little family of three, and became completely run-down. I was weak, nervous and could not sleep; finally I was unable to do my housework. A friend asked me to try Vinol. I did so and improved rapidly. It toned up my system, I regained my strength, am no longer nervous, sleep well, and do all my housework." Mrs. J. C. Maxwell, Montgomery, Ala.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success to the medicinal extractives of fresh cod livers, tonic iron and beef peptone, the oldest and most famous body-building and strength-creating tonics.

So many letters like the above are continually coming to our attention, that we freely offer to return the money paid for Vinol in every case where it fails to give satisfaction. Lee P. Allcott, druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.—Adv.

CHILD TRAINING AND CHARACTER

How Parents Should Utilize a Child's Natural Willingness to Help as One of the Most Beautiful Instincts Toward Character Formation.

"HELEN, come down from that chair at once!" exclaimed a nervous and impatient mother. She came upon her daughter quite unaware and found her toiling in a chair, where she had almost succeeded in hanging up her mother's coat, which lay carelessly on the back of the chair. Helen said nothing, but her feelings were crushed. More important still, she wondered what she had committed in trying to help mother.

Less than an hour later she was starting off to school when her mother made her ten minutes late because she insisted on asking her all these questions and many others: "Helen, have you a clean handkerchief in your pocket? Be sure and put your rubbers on again before starting home. Wait a minute. Bring home the speller and arithmetic, because your teacher says that you are behind in those studies. Child, you are not paying attention to what I am saying. You say you are, but that you do not want to be late for school. Naughty girl, don't you know that mother's words come before all else? I'll wait and see. If you forget my instruction I certainly shall have to punish you."

Certainly this mother and many others like her wish to make their children happy. They think that the easiest and simplest way is to deprive them of their easy but natural responsibility. They do not realize that they are depriving their children of their natural physical and mental rights at the same time.

As one authority on childhood so truly says: "Every effort to make children happy fails if we take away from them sense of responsibility. Think for a child and he is sure to be discontented. Character is formed only by meeting responsibility and assuming care. It is doing children injustice to deny them the mental development that comes from doing their own thinking and making their own decisions. Childhood is a preparation. It is the schooltime of character as well as of intellect."

Whatever other qualities may enter into the making of a full and rounded character, self reliance is one of the most important, and you can only cultivate it in your child by giving him some responsibilities. It was this that made our mothers and our grandmothers so sturdy and strong. It is this that gives the country girl and boy an advantage over the city girl and boy. Your country girl and boy get these responsibilities easily and naturally. The girl usually helps her mother in the home and sometimes on the farm. The country boy always begins at an early age to do most of the chores and his part of the heavy farm labor.

So much of the work that was once done in the city home has been taken out of the home that its responsibilities are now comparatively few. If the greater duties are a thing of the past be sure to let your children at an early age have their share of small cares. They will thank you for every task when they are old enough to appreciate the meaning of doing things.

If you do not insist on your child taking care of her toys, clothes, books and other personal possessions she is bound to cultivate carelessness. These responsibilities are none too many to give to a very young child. They can be increased easily and naturally as the child advances in years.

To accomplish this end you must give your child a certain amount of time in which she can make her own decisions, look after her own toys and the care of the nursery. Give her a small dust-er and her dusting clothes. Let her clean and dust her bedroom and her nursery as much as she likes. By this simple method she will cultivate a fondness and a knowledge of home-making which every child should know and enjoy.

If you live in the country or in the suburbs give your little girl a doll's house or, better still, a playhouse. Equip it with a kitchen stove, cupboards, dishes and the other equipments needed in housekeeping. Let the children cook and clean up there to their hearts' content. It is a splendid place for them to entertain their little friends, provided they are compelled to prepare the luncheons and spreads and do the cleaning after the party is over.

You will soon see that your children understand a great deal more than you may give them credit for. They enjoy responsibility, and they respond instantly when an appeal is made to their pride and resourcefulness.

Deviled Scallops. Pour boiling water over one pint of scallops and let them stand three minutes; drain and cut into squares. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add three tablespoonfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful salt and pepper. ESTIMATE SHOWS THERE ARE 35,000 NOTARY PUBLICS IN ILLINOIS

About 10,000 are Commissioned by the Governor Each Year.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 18.—A recent estimate, made for the secretary of state, Lewis G. Stevenson, showed that there are approximately 35,000 notary publics in Illinois. About 10,000 are commissioned by the governor each year. The annual receipts of the index department in the secretary of state's office from notary commissions approximate $17,500.

The governor may appoint as many persons resident in the county for which they are appointed, as he deems necessary, but no persons may be appointed who are under 21 years of age or who are not citizens of the United States. Recently when Governor Dunne and Lieutenant Governor O'Hara were out of the state, State Senator Stephen D. Canady, Acting Governor, honored his wife with a commission as notary public.

Notaries must give a bond, payable to the people of the State, in the sum of $1,000 to insure the faithful discharge of their duties. A petition signed by at least fifty voters in the town where the notary resides must be presented before a notary is commissioned. In addition, there is a fee of $2 payable to the state and a fee of 25c payable to the county clerk. This last is for recording the date of the notary's appointment.

Between one-half and two-thirds of the notaries in the state reside in Cook county.

BEARDSTOWN ITEMS.

In Beardstown the city authorities have made some changes in the old building formerly kept for fire department usage and will take care of hoboes there this winter. A number of comfortable bunks have been built and the plan is to put travelers in this building instead of at police headquarters. The Illinois Star dubs the building, "Hotel De-Luxe" and as such it will probably be known. There are various requirements which will be made of the men cared for at the hotel. No man can stay there for more than one night at a time and must not appear for at least a thirty day period. The intention of the authorities is not to encourage vagrancy but simply to take care of men who come to the town in cold weather and have no place to sleep.

Mayor Harris of Beardstown is one of the most enthusiastic advocates for a $15,000 bond issue which may be voted upon there next spring. The plan is under way to spend this amount in providing a park and public playgrounds. The large patronage given the public beach in Beardstown last season is cited as proof that the people there need more recreation than is now provided.

ICELAND'S EIDER FARMS.

How the Ducks Are Guarded and Are Robbed of Their Down.

The down of the eider duck is more highly esteemed and brings a higher price than any other down. In Iceland and the Vestmannaeyjar Islands, where the duck nests, it is rigidly protected by law and by public sentiment.

These ducks make their nests of down from their own breasts. They pluck it out with their bills and form it into a circular mound which has the property of retaining heat to an extraordinary degree. If this down be removed the duck supplies a second and even a third lot from the same source.

The eider farms in Iceland are frequently situated on little islands off the coast, covered with low hummocks. To protect the brooding ducks from the elements the Icelanders construct small shelters of rough stones. On these farms, it is said, the ducks become so tame that any one with whom they are familiar may handle them without frightening them.

Separate buildings on the Icelandic eider farms are devoted to the cleaning of the product. Down clings tenaciously to anything on which it is thrown, a circumstance that is utilized in cleaning it. There are a number of frames of oblong shape, and along these numbers of strings are stretched loosely. The down is cast on these near one end, and a piece of wood is drawn rapidly backward and forward over the other end. The down clings to the strings, but all impurities, such as grass and seaweed, fall to the ground.—Every Week.

COUGHING AND SPITTING.

The Way Disease Is Spread and How It Could Be Avoided.

The dangerous and dirty habit of careless spitting, coughing and sneezing is without doubt the most costly carelessness that civilized society indulges in. The saying, "No spit, no consumption," is literally true, and this means that consumption would be largely avoided if this habit could be abolished.

It has been shown by careful scientific experiments that in the act of coughing or sneezing, unless a handkerchief or other object is held in front of the nose and mouth, microscopic particles of saliva and nasal secretion are discharged into the air in which, even in a quiet room, may be carried a distance of from ten to fifty yards from the place where they were expelled. Many of these droplets can be seen if one will cough or sneeze in front of a mirror or window pane. Most of them, however, are too small to be visible to the naked eye. One can now readily understand how very impolite it is to cough or sneeze without holding a handkerchief in front of his face, for such a person literally spits on objects and people, perhaps on food, within a distance of from ten to fifty yards about him.

The germs of tuberculosis, diphtheria and perhaps grip, colds, pneumonia, whooping cough, measles and scarlet fever are conveyed through expectoration. Many perfectly healthy people not suffering from the disease carry the germs of pneumonia and diphtheria and other contagious diseases in their mouths and throats. It becomes necessary that not only recognizably sick people shall desist from careless spitting, but that the apparently well, who may be "germ carriers," should also be careful in expectorating.

Towns and cities should make their anti-spitting laws more than jokes. As a matter of fact, they should not pass such an ordinance until they are ready to enforce it. From a health point of view anti-spitting ordinances are not to be lightly regarded. They should be serious laws, and the violation of them should be made more than a joke.

ENGLISH WORDS.

They Are, Asserts a Critic, Both Ugly and Unmusical.

"On the whole, owing partly to the enormous proportion of monosyllables, partly to the prevalence of sibilant and dental sounds, the words of the English language are overwhelmingly ugly and unmusical." As proof of this assertion, Charles Leonard Moore adduces in "Incense and Iconoclasm" a long list of commonly used names of things that in our language are rather bad than good.

"Ocean" is gradually mouth filling and pictorial, but "sea" is ignoble, "air" at least questionable, "sky" weak and thin. The clipped dissyllable "heaven" is decidedly poor. "Firmament," however, is magnificent and "paradise" fine. "Earth," "sun," "stars" are three low, piebald symbols for the total splendors of the visible world.

Turn to the words describing man's own person. "Face," "eyes," "nose," "mouth," "legs," Mr. Moore thinks a simple commodity of vile names. As for man's possessions, it is to be hoped that Adam had better taste than to call his cave a "house." "Mansion" or "palace" might do. "Garden," "valley," "forest" are good. "Metropolitan" is fine and gave Keats an excellent line—"Upon the gold clouds metropolitan"—but "city" is affected and "town" in tolerable.

For the sound of most of our verbs Mr. Moore has a criticism as harsh, and it is only our adjectives that he praises, and then cautiously. "August," "splendid," "noble," "gorgeous," "magnificent," "graceful," "indomitable"—these he thinks really patrician among the vulgar rabble of our other words.

A Rabelais Hoax.

Rabelais, being out of money, once tricked the police into taking him from Marseilles to Paris on a charge of treason. He made up some packages of brick dust and labeled them "Poison for the royal family." The officers took Rabelais 700 miles, only to be told at the end of their journey that it was April 1 and the affair was a hoax. Of course, as Rabelais was the privileged wit of the royal family, he was forgiven.

An Old Proverb.

The familiar proverb "Fine feathers make fine birds" has been traced away back to the time of the pyramid builders. It is found in hieroglyphics as early as the reign of King Cheops. It has also been found in very early Chinese documents. It is almost as old as the human race.—New York American.

Unseemly Taste.

Joy Rider (stopped by rural constables)—Haven't you got any rights left in this country? Doesn't the constitution guarantee us life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness? Constable—It don't guarantee no man the pursuit of happiness at ninety miles an hour.—Judge.

Power of Wind.

Farm and Fireside says: "The power of wind is measured by the cube of its velocity. A wind blowing ten miles an hour gives a windmill eight times as much power as a five mile wind."

Henpecked.

She—Was Algernon Watts on the football team when he was in college? He—I should say not! He has never even had the nerve to kick at home.—Judge.

A Poverty Stricken Queen.

Partly owing to the fact that she was wedded to an avaricious king and partly because she was generous with the little money allowed her Elizabeth of York, queen of Henry VII., spent but a small amount for dress. She was very often in debt, and the sums she spent were ridiculously small, 20 shillings ($5) being the greatest amount expended at any one time. Her gowns were mended and turned, and new waists were made for them, as is shown by the record of bills paid to her tailor. These bills prove that she wore her clothes for a long time, for her gowns were obliged to be newly hemmed, and also that, though a princess of the great house of Plantagenet, she wore shoes costing but 24 cents, which were decorated with tin buckles.

Charm Cures.

Belief in charm cures is not quite extinct even today. Only a short while ago a child in East Anglia went to a chemist with a request from her mother for a spider in a nutshell to hang round baby's neck to cure his whooping cough. In the west country some still pin faith in the cure of whooping cough by administering cooked dormouse or by plucking a hair from the sick child's neck, hiding it in a piece of meat and giving it to a dog. No child will ever have the malady, others affirm, if it has ridden on the back of a bear!—London Telegraph.

Friday Weddings.

Friday is a day of which about to wed couples are extremely nervous. It is a matter of record in most cities that fewer licenses are issued on that day than on the other five of the working week. In the divorce court no such hesitancy is manifest.

Acidity.

He—The town you live in is rather arid socially, isn't it? She—Arid? Well, I should say so. Why, the soil there is so arid socially that you can't even raise your eyebrows.—Vanity Fair

Mothers Tell of Mother's Friend

Experience is or should be our best teacher. Women who have obeyed the highest and noblest of all sacrifices, the struggle for the life of others, should have a better idea of helpful influence than those who theorize from observation. At any rate when a prospective grandmother urges her daughter to do as she did—to use "Mother's Friend," there is ample reason to believe it the right kind of advice.

"Mother's Friend" is an external application for expectant mothers. Its purpose is to furnish pliancy to the muscles, to take away the strain on the cords and ligaments, to relieve the tension of nerves and tendons so apt to provoke or aggravate nausea, morning sickness, twitches of the limbs and so on. Although, in the nature of things, a woman would use "Mother's Friend" but rarely, yet so effective has it been found that this splendid remedy is on sale in most drug stores throughout the United States. It has been prepared by Bradford Regulator Co., 506 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and advertised by us for over forty years. This is a fine record for such a special remedy and, the grateful letters received to-day are just as appreciative as were those of years ago notwithstanding that methods are supposed to have greatly advanced. Ask at the drug store for a bottle of "Mother's Friend." It is worth while.

What is said herein of "Mother's Friend" is but a repetition of the thoughts expressed by thousands of happy mothers who have successfully used this splendid external application.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—The First City Troop will celebrate tonight the 141st anniversary of its organization with an inspection at the armory and a banquet. The troop was organized on Nov. 17, 1774, just as the thirteen colonies were approaching the brink of the Revolutionary War, and it has taken part with honor in every war in which country has been engaged since that time. The flags carried by the former members in the Revolution and the War for the Union are carefully preserved.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

WHEAT HAD UPWARD SLANT ALMOST CONTINUOUSLY THRUOUT DAY

Close Is Strong 1-3-8 to 1-3-4 Cents Net Higher—Corn and Oats Score Gains.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Assertions that steps being taken by foreign governments would bring about a reduction of freight rates on the ocean gave decided strength today to the wheat market here. Prices closed strong 1c to 1 1/4c net higher with December at $1.05 1/4, 1.05 1/2 and May at $1.07 1/4 to 1.07 1/2.

Corn gained 1c to 1 1/4c and oats 1/2c. In provisions the outcome was unchanged to 7 1/2c higher.

Wheat had an upward slant almost continuously thruout the day. Gossip was current that the British and Italian governments had assumed virtual direct control of all freight vessels belonging to citizens of Great Britain or of Italy.

The consequence was to stimulate bullish sentiment.

THE CURIOUS KANGAROO.

A Theory Its Quicker Style of Animal Architecture Suggests.

The kangaroo family is unique and is found only in Australia. It is the most remarkable branch of the order of marsupials, or pouched animals, the pouch being a kind of pocket in which the young are nourished and protected for a long time after birth. The opossum is an example of a marsupial in habiting America, but it bears no outward resemblance to a kangaroo.

The marsupials arose in very ancient geological times somewhere in the mesozoic age, and later on nearly disappeared except in Australia and neighboring islands, where today they constitute the characteristic native fauna.

There is one curious fact about the kangaroo which appears all the more singular when we reflect upon the great antiquity of the order of the marsupials. It almost looks as if this extraordinary Australian animal represents a survival of a style of animal architecture which was once a favorite with nature, but has since been abandoned.

The frames of these creatures are characterized by an enormous development of the posterior parts, including gigantic tails and massive thighs and hind legs. If any of the dinosaurs had a leaping power comparable with that of the kangaroo the terror inspired by their forms must have been unmeted by that arising from their movements.

HIS DAY OF REST.

A Town in France Where a Legal Holiday is Strictly Observed.

The jeweler's face expressed bewilderment and astonishment and amusement. He looked from the artist to me and back again at the artist. He started at the end of every sentence to say something, but the artist didn't give him a chance. The artist kept on talking, while I kept on trying to control my sense of humor. I wanted to shriek. I longed for the ability to write shorthand, so that I could put it all down for posterity.

The artist had left a watch to be mended, and we were standing in front of the jeweler's shop on one of the narrow streets of Douarnenez, a town in the extreme west of France. The shutters were up in front of the shop, and the jeweler was in his shirt sleeves, looking as if he had been waked up by our knock from an enjoyable after-dinner sleep. The artist and I were leaving by the 3:15 train for Pont Croix, and we didn't intend to come back this way. It was Thursday, but the jeweler had politely explained that he could not give us the watch until tomorrow, although it was all ready and was hanging from its little hook in the shop at whose open door we stood. The reason was that Thursday had been chosen by the jeweler for his repos hebdomadaire—the one day in seven rest imposed by law.—Herbert Adams Gibson in Harper's Magazine.

Wealth in Middle Ages.

Hallam, whose "View of the State of Europe During the Middle Ages" was published in 1843, calculated that in the latter half of the thirteenth century money had at least twenty-four or twenty-five times more purchasing power than at the beginning of the nineteenth. In Edward I's day a knight passed "extremely rich" on £150 a year, while an annual income of between £10 and £20 was reckoned a "competent estate for a gentleman." But the gentleman of those days had few, if any, foreign luxuries, and rarely left his own country—except to fight.—London Mirror.

Apprehensive.

Little Violet had been carefully coached as to the necessity for quietness upon the occasion of her first church attendance. She remembered admirably. Feeling that her behavior was worthy of some audible recognition, she said to her mother at the close of the service:

"Say, mother, I didn't wake anybody up, did I?"—Woman's Home Companion.

A Narrow Escape.

"I'll give you a hamburger steak," began the kind lady, "if you'll chop"—Here the man darted out of the yard. "If you chop the meat," she concluded. "Come back if you're hungry. I wouldn't think of asking you to chop wood."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Its Place.

"This isn't the place, you stupid, to secure your accommodation on the steamer. This is the city health department."

"Well, oughtn't I be able to get information here on the berth rate?"—Baltimore American.

SASSY SAUCES.

CRUSHED FRUIT SAUCE.—Cream together two tablespoonfuls of butter and one cupful of powdered sugar; put the mixture over the fire and stir until it boils, adding to it at this stage a teaspoonful of arrowroot wet to a paste in cold water. Cook two minutes longer and stir in a cupful of any kind of crushed or chopped fresh fruit. Leave the sauce on the fire just long enough to become heated through and serve.

Fruit Juice Pudding Sauce.—Squeeze the juice from any kind of fruit and set it aside. Cream a tablespoonful of butter and a cupful of sugar together until they are creamy, beat in the fruit juice and set on ice until needed.

Egg Sauce.—Make a pint of white sauce; have ready a hard boiled egg chopped fine, stir it into the sauce; season to taste with salt and pepper. Good for baked, boiled or broiled fish.

Onion or Soubise Sauce.—To half a pint of white sauce add two medium sized onions which have been boiled soft and then chopped. Stir well, add salt and pepper to taste.

Tomato Sauce.—Drain half a pint of the liquor from stewed tomatoes, either canned or fresh; put it over the fire with a slice of onion and simmer fifteen minutes; take out the onion and pour the liquor upon a tablespoonful each of butter and flour which have been cooked together until they bubble. Stir to smooth thickness, season with salt and pepper and serve. This is good to pour over poached or hard boiled and chopped eggs, to serve with fish, veal, lamb, mutton or hamburger steak.

Brown Sauce.—Cook together a tablespoonful each of butter and of browned flour, letting them cook until the color begins to darken; pour upon them half a pint of clear beef stock or consommé. Stir until thick, and if a darker tint is required add a few drops of caramel or of kitchen bouquet, as well as salt and pepper.

Jelly Sauce for Pudding.—Heat together in a saucepan a large tablespoonful of butter, half a glassful of currant or other tart jelly and a tablespoonful of sugar and stir until dissolved and blended. When smooth put in a saltspoonful of cornstarch moistened to a paste with the juice of a lemon. Cook for two minutes and keep hot over boiling water until needed. If wine is used put in a gill of sherry just before serving.

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

COUNCIL LICENSES WOMAN TO OPEN BAR IN BEARDSTOWN

Beardstown is to have a woman saloon keeper. The name of Mrs. Belle Dant, proprietress of the Riverside hotel was added to the list of local saloon owners Monday evening when the city council granted her a license to open a saloon after Dec. 1 in the room now occupied by the restaurant, Main and Jefferson streets says the Beardstown Star. The place will be run in accordance of the law or it will be closed at once, was the assurance the new saloon owner's bondsmen gave the council.

Considerable comment originated when the matter of granting the license came up. The old reputation of a saloon at that corner caused several of the councilmen to hesitate, until assurance was given that the new saloon would be regulated strictly. The license was granted by a six to four vote of the council.

TWENTIETH ANNUAL GATHERING HELD

WOMAN'S COUNTRY CLUB OF ORLEANS MET LAST NIGHT.

Pleasant Gathering of Members and Friends at the Residence of Mrs. Wm. H. Hinrichsen in Alexander.

The 20th annual meeting of the Woman's country club of Orleans and vicinity was held Thursday evening at the spacious residence of Mrs. William H. Hinrichsen, who most royally entertained the members and a number of guests. The house was beautifully and brilliantly illuminated for the occasion and despite the bad roads and unpleasant weather a large gathering was present and fully enjoyed the occasion.

Mrs. Hinrichsen, president of the club, presided and announced the first number, Mendelssohn's "Spring Song", by Miss Violet Davis, who rendered the solo with rare skill and ability. This was followed by the annual address of Mrs. Hinrichsen which will appear in Saturday's Journal.

Mrs. Margaret Colwell read the secretary's report. She said:

"Tonight we have reached our twentieth milestone in our history. Our main line of work has been miscellaneous this year. We began our club here Nov. 1 with 'Women of the Bible'. We have taken a trip to New York City; we have frolicked around the municipal Christmas tree; and modern poets; taken a trip to the Panama canal; passed judgment on the Keokuk dam with all the world; visited San Francisco; formed an acquaintance of native birds as well as our household pests. We have found out what women's clubs are doing and have talked about the wives of our presidents. We next visited Philadelphia and then we did some home gardening. In June we had a picnic with the Franklin Home Makers club members as our guests. We considered the club woman as wife and found her good."

"We discussed the anti-tuberculosis situation in a meeting with Mrs. A. L. Adams. We considered the preservation of fruit trees and gave an afternoon to American novelties. And another afternoon was devoted to the American man. We also gave some study to Morgan county history and ended with a discussion with 'What the lub means to me'."

"We hope, dear friends, that we have given you some idea of the year's work, just an outline so as not to be tedious as the men a patiently waiting the culinary part of the program. And we know we shall enjoy the program arranged for us."

"The Dawn of Tomorrow" was a splendid reading given in a talented way by Miss Jeanette Powell. Mrs. Wm. Barr Brown, Jr. then sang in a most artistic manner, "The Day is Gone", by Margaret Lang; "Since You Went Away", Rosemond Johnson; "Sweetheart", by V. Herbert; Miss Carrie Dunlap acted as accompanist.

"After the program a bountiful supper was served which it is needless to say was greatly enjoyed by the company. The supper was prepared by a committee composed of: Mrs. George Graff, Mrs. J. W. Rawlings and Mrs. Fred Moeller. Following the supper the guests spent a very pleasant social time and all greatly enjoyed the hospitality of the Hinrichsen home."

DONATION DAY THURSDAY AT OLD PEOPLE'S HOME

Thursday was "donation day" at the Old Peoples' home and the institution was handsomely remodeled by its friends, the inclement weather in the afternoon interfered to some extent with the success of the occasion. Three Christian churches in other places remembered the home with good-sized donations. The churches in Bakersfield, Ind., and Pittsfield, Ill., sent fruit, and the Virginia church sent all manner of table linen and household articles. Other donations are known to be in preparation or on the way and it is probable that many Jacksonville people who found it inconvenient to do so yesterday will call at the home with their donations today.

WILLIAM A. MASTERS WEDS MISS MARGARET M. CURTS

Ceremony Took Place Thursday Afternoon in Pastor's Study at Central Christian Church—Other Marriages.

William A. Masters, county assessor and treasurer, and Miss Margaret M. Curtis were united in marriage in the pastor's study, Central Christian church, Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. The service was read by the Rev. Myron L. Pontius, pastor of the church, and was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert L. Masters and Mrs. Effie Mathews.

The marriage of these well known young people will not come as a great surprise to their many friends as they have looked for the event to take place for several months. Mr. and Mrs. Masters left for Chicago Thursday evening where they will spend several days. After Thanksgiving they will be at home at 604 South Main street.

The bride is the daughter of the late George Curtis and was born and reared in the Antioch neighborhood east of the city. She attended the public schools and later was a student at Jacksonville Female Academy. She is a young woman of much personal charm which has won her many friends.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Masters. He was born in the county and has always lived in the Pisgah neighborhood. For many years he followed the occupation of farming and was most successful in his work. He also made a specialty of raising fine horses and one of the best horses ever produced in the county, Vandeventer, was bred and raised by him. In 1914 Mr. Masters was nominated for the office of assessor and treasurer on the Democratic ticket and later was elected to the office. He has proved a most efficient official and since becoming a resident of Jacksonville has gained new friends and popularity. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Masters will unite in wishing them many years of wedded happiness.

The couple were the recipients of a number of gifts from their friends. The deputy assessors of the county presented them with a handsome chest of silver while Deputy and Mrs. W. C. Self gave them a mahogany tray.

Taylor-Stutsman.

The marriage of Frank Fletcher Taylor of this city and Miss Florence Stutsman of Quincy took place Wednesday afternoon at the Christian church parsonage in Quincy. The Rev. W. D. Embers officiating. The couple were unattended and after the ceremony left for a wedding trip which will probably include Denver, Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo. The groom has many friends in Jacksonville, having for more than a year been employed as third trick operator at the Wabash. He has been employed at Springfield and for six years was an operator in Quincy. Patrons of the company here have found him always quick and accommodating in the discharge of his duties and by all he is regarded as a young man of application and industry. Mr. Taylor is a brother of Mrs. Homer Rowland of this city, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor of Versailles.

The bride is a young woman of worth and charm, who has always made Quincy her home and for a number of years has been employed as a toll operator for the Bell telephone company in that city. She is the daughter of Mrs. Kate Stutsman of 72 1-2 Jersey street. On their return from the wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will come to Jacksonville to reside.

Cook-Beatty.

Woodson W. Cook and Mrs. Myrtle M. Beatty, both of Valley City, Pike county, were united in marriage at the court house Thursday morning at 10:15 o'clock the Rev. J. W. Priest. The witnesses were Judge William E. Thomson and John M. Butler. The groom is a farmer by occupation, and they will reside in Valley City.

WERE MAROONED.

H. M. Andre and Cass Ham of the Andre and Andre store went out hunting Thursday. The trip was made in Mr. Andre's car. Neither of the gentlemen are experts in driving a car and on the return home they got marooned near the residence of Herbert Henderson, north of town. The trouble was caused by the rain making the roads so slippery they couldn't drive the car. Mr. Andre sent out an S. O. S. call to his brother, G. B. Andre, and the hunters were rescued. The next time they go hunting they are going to take a chauffeur and an expert machinist so if anything happens they will be sure to get home safely.

COMPLIMENTS STAFF.

E. E. Henderson has returned from the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows at Springfield and reports a fine and very enjoyable time. He says the work of the Jacksonville degree staff was highly complimented by the officials and delegates to the Grand Lodge and received many commendations. This item seems to be news to the Springfield press as Mr. Henderson says the publications in the capital city were conspicuously silent regarding the visitors from Jacksonville.

HAS MOVED SHOP.

Henry Herring, manufacturer of the Cedric cigar has moved his factory from the corner of South Main and East College street to the room above the Hudgin Furniture store on South Main street. Mr. Herring's new location was made necessary by the residence which he occupied being sold.

A short time since the good people of Bethel A. M. E. church met at the home of a neighbor and proceeded to the parsonage and gave their worthy pastor, Rev. N. J. The self-invited guests brought along plenty of the good things of life for immediate consumption and a substantial token of good will in the shape of groceries and family supplies. A very good feeling exists between the pastor and his people and the work of the gentleman is beginning in an auspicious manner.

DONATION DAY THURSDAY AT OLD PEOPLE'S HOME

Thursday was "donation day" at the Old Peoples' home and the institution was handsomely remodeled by its friends, the inclement weather in the afternoon interfered to some extent with the success of the occasion. Three Christian churches in other places remembered the home with good-sized donations. The churches in Bakersfield, Ind., and Pittsfield, Ill., sent fruit, and the Virginia church sent all manner of table linen and household articles. Other donations are known to be in preparation or on the way and it is probable that many Jacksonville people who found it inconvenient to do so yesterday will call at the home with their donations today.

CHANCE TO SECURE CHRISTMAS GIFT FUNDS IS OFFERED BY JOURNAL

Boys and Girls Should Read This Offer—Send in a New Subscription With a Fifty Cent Payment and an Order for That Amount Will Be Given You—The Plan in Detail

A display advertisement on another page in this issue tells how any boy or girl or grownup can earn money for Christmas shopping. For any new subscription to the Daily Journal with a payment of fifty cents in advance the Journal Company will give an order for fifty cents on any store advertised in the Journal. The only requirement is that the subscription must go to a home where the Journal is not now being sent.

This is your chance to earn the Christmas money over which you have been puzzling. The orders given will be exactly the same as cash in value. Bring in one subscription and you receive a fifty cent order; bring in five and you receive an order for $2.50 or ten subscriptions will entitle you to a five dollar order. Tell us on what merchant you want the order drawn, go to the store, pick out the goods wanted and the order will be accepted in payment.

Three years ago at the holiday season the Journal tried this plan which took the paper into new homes and permanent readers resulted. That's the reason we can offer to exchange for new subscriptions on which payments of fifty cents are made the full amount paid in. The plan is simple and plain and there are no requirements other than here enumerated but if the proposition is not quite clear to you stop in at the Journal office or phone for information. The subscription price of the Daily Journal is $5 a year by carrier or $4 by mail.

COMMUNITY PROSPERITY IS VIEWED FROM MANY ANGLES

Of interest not to merchants and business men only, but to all citizens as well, is the work of Dr. Robert Perry Shepherd, who will speak in Jacksonville this evening and who represents the Community Welfare commission, which is engaged in applying the principles of business efficiency to commerce, agriculture, civics and social life in the broader sense. As previously announced, Dr. Shepherd will speak at a luncheon at the Peacock Inn this evening at 6:30 o'clock, and those desiring to attend are requested to notify Secretary Weber before the hour of 4. Dr. Shepherd has been in the city before and is known as a powerful, yet pithy, speaker. Immediate objectives of benefit to business men are "home" trading, wiser development of trade territory, surer methods of meeting mail order and chain store competition, systematic community charity and benevolences and definite promotion of concrete improvements.

EVANGELIST DRAWS LESSONS FROM CONVERSION OF SAUL

Ability and Enthusiasm, First Appeared in Persecution, Makes of Paul One of Lord's First Servants—Christian Church Revival Closes Tonight.

The conversion of Saul of Tarsus from an ardent persecutor of Christians to one of the most faithful and effective workers in God's kingdom, formed the theme of a profitable sermon by the Rev. John L. Brandt last night at Central Christian church, in the service preceding the concluding evening of the revival series. Scenes in India were depicted on the screen and described by the evangelist for a few minutes after the sermon.

For his work of evangelism Saul was peculiarly fitted, for he was conversant with the three great languages of the time, Latin, Greek and Hebrew. Saul was by birth a Hebrew, by education a Greek, and by citizenship a Roman. In religion he was a Hebrew of the sect of Pharisees and a ring-leader in persecution of Christians. For this very purpose he was on his way to Damascus when the Lord appeared to him. Chosen by God to bear the news to kings and Gentiles, he became one of the greatest preachers and writers of the gospel of Christ.

Paul gave the very best years of his life in the service of Christ and for His sake suffered many trials and hardships. Valiant and true, whether among his own people or among those who opposed his teaching in foreign lands, Paul at the time of his death was able to say, "I have finished my course; I have fought a good fight; I have kept the faith."

A GREAT DIRECTOR.

Referring to Director Zach of the St. Louis Symphony orchestra, which will appear at the Grand Opera house here next Wednesday, the Post-Dispatch said: "Director Zach is a true musician, sound and sane and genuinely artistic. He is not given to sensationalism, and no great artist ever is. St. Louis is fortunate in possessing him, for the director of a city's orchestra is responsible for that city's musical morals." From an interview of Fritz Kreisler.

MRS. HARVEY W. MACK OF CARROLLTON DIES HERE

Passed Away Thursday Night at the Home of Her Mother, Mrs. L. B. Mack—Was Graduated from Passavant Hospital.

Mrs. Harvey W. Mack of Carrollton, died at 7:45 o'clock Thursday night at the home of her mother, Mrs. L. B. Mack, of 1121 South Diamond street. She underwent an operation at Passavant hospital eight weeks ago and has gradually declined since that time.

Her maiden name was Etta N. McAllister, and she was born three miles east of Waverly, Aug. 3, 1879, being at the time of her death 36 years, 3 months and 14 days of age. She was the fifth child of Robert and Caroline McAllister, both of whom died several years ago. She was reared and educated at Waverly and resided there the greater part of her life. At the age of 18 years she united with the Christian church at Waverly.

In 1906 she came to Jacksonville and entered the Passavant Hospital Training School for Nurses and graduated from that institution in 1908. She made an enviable record as a trained nurse and has always commanded the love and friendship of all who knew her.

She married Harvey W. Mack of Jacksonville, Nov. 2, 1908, and since their marriage they have resided on a farm twelve miles west of Carrollton. During the period of her illness she suffered intensely, but every comfort was given by her loved ones and friends, and especially was she shown every kindness by the physicians with whom she had been associated during her training at the hospital.

She was removed from the hospital to the home of her mother six weeks ago and while it was known from the time of her operation that there were no hopes for her recovery, the loved ones to whom she had so endeared herself could not realize so soon they would be called upon to give her up. No one was better loved or appreciated for their real sterling worth, and all during her illness there were constant inquiries as to her recovery from her wide circle of friends and former patients for whom she cared during her training.

She is survived by her husband, two sisters, Mrs. Edward Challans and Mrs. James Lythell, and one brother, Dart McAllister, all of Waverly.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the residence, 1121 South Diamond street, and interment will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.
